Three collisions took place on Penticton streets late Saturday. In two of the accidents, RCMP have laid charges.

The first occurred at the corner of Winnipeg and Eckhardt avenue about 5:30 p.m. when cars driven by Dr. H. G. Garrioch proceeding north on Winnipeg and Dennis Hack, both of Penticton, collided in the middle of the intersection.

Extensive damage was done to both cars. Dr. Garrioch suffered slight injuries from the incident. Charges have been laid in connection with the accident.

At 9:45 p.m. a vehicle driven by Karl Knott of Peachland ran into the rear of a car driven by Ronald C. Spencer of Penticton at the corner of Main street and Wade avenue.

Damage amounted to approximately $150.

At 11:00 p.m. RCMP received a report that a car was sitting on the lawn of Valley View Lodge at the corner of Johnson road and Hospital Hill.

Police discovered that the car's owner Thomas Greig of Naramata failed to negotiate the turn at that corner and swerved off onto the lawn.

Considerable damage was done to the car and to the lawn. RCMP state that charges will be laid.

Rotary Strives For World Brotherhood, Declares Governor

Rotary Clubs in 99 countries throughout the free world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace.

That was the message of John Coe of Penticton, Governor of District 153 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Penticton today, following a conference with local Rotary officers and committee chairmen held last night.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 9,100 Clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Coe explained (Continued on Page 6).

Boy Scout Aims Are Perpetual, Says New Head

"The fundamental principles of Scouting — the Boy Scout Law and Promise — are as sound today as they were when formulated fifty years ago by the founder of scouting, Lord Robert Baden Powell," declared Dr. Desmond F. Kidd, newly appointed provincial commissioner for Boy Scouts in B.C., as he addressed leaders and parents in the Penticton Canadian Legion Hall Thursday night.

Dr. Kidd, a noted geologist and former president of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, added that scouting practices are continually being modified to meet modern conditions, but the principles remain fundamental.

Scout and Wolf Cub groups from Summerland, Naramata, Oliver and Penticton were represented at the Thursday night meeting.

The satisfaction which voluntary workers derive from Boy Scout activities, the commissioner said, comes in the knowledge that boys are being trained in an international way of living.

He cited the 1955 World Jamboree held at Niagara in Canada, as an example of practical world (Continued on Page 6)

Four Local Lads Stranded On Raft Escape Drowning

A quartet of disillusioned Huckleberry Finns from Penticton found out in a dangerous fashion Saturday that home-made rafts are only navigable on the 'ole swimming hole and not on vast bodies of water such as Okanagan Lake.

The four lads, Robert Twist, Jim Campbell, Ray and Kenny Goodfriend, brothers, ranged in age from six to ten years.

They shoved off their crude craft onto the lake about noon for a cruise around the OPE breakwater. For a paddle they had only a board.

However, as they steered around the lake an 18 mile wind caught hold of their craft and pushed it out 500 yards from shore. Their makeshift paddle was useless.

Fishermen Charles Crawford, Frank O'Connell and Terry Langridge rescued the lads from the white caps, about 1:30 p.m., before police arrived on the scene.

Red Shield Fund Drive Underway

The Salvation Army's Red Shield Appeal for funds will begin in Penticton on Monday, October 1, according to Capt. M. Robson, in charge of local Salvation Army work.

Chairman of the appeal will be Tom Daly and he will be assisted by members of Penticton Salvation Army headquarters. Objective of the appeal, according to Chairman Daly, will be $3,200. He asked for full support from all who will canvass or contribute.

Theme of the campaign is to be "The Understanding Heart." "That heart," said Mr. Daly, "must be kept beating. Penticton needs The Salvation Army with its spiritual and practical ministry."

Members of the Salvation Army hope to have canvassed Penticton by October 15 and the outlying districts as quickly as possible after that date.

Citizens are asked to turn on their porch lights to guide canvassers.

If the canvasser misses certain homes, homeowners may send their donation into Salvation Army headquarters at 550 Ellis street, telephone 5624.

350 Register For City Night School Courses

Close to 350 Pentictonites registered Friday evening in the high school auditorium for night school courses. Although there were not sufficient students to fill every class listed in the night school directory, many classes will begin this week.

Other courses will be offered later in the season.

Those unable to register Friday night may still participate in the Night School program. The first classes begin tonight at 7:30 and those who have not registered as yet can register at tonight's session or any other class session.

As a criteria of what courses should be offered, directors of Penticton night school state that any course in which there is community interest will be slated as part of the program. The only requisites are that 15 people enroll in the course and that a suitable instructor is available.

The aim of the Penticton night school is to make school facilities available not only for the education of young people, but also for adult education.

Here is a list of the classes which will commence this week or in the near future:

Classes to be held on Monday: Painting for pleasure, group 2. (Students registering for the first year); conversational Spanish; modern business series; building construction; square dancing, beginners. (Les Boyer, instructor); ladies' choir (October 15); creative writing; music appreciation (October 15); what's behind the news; archery; prospecting and geology.

Convention Sessions Open Here Tuesday

One of the largest conventions ever to be held in this city will gather in Penticton from Tuesday to Friday of this week, when approximately 800 visitors will attend the sessions of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Indication of the importance of this year's meet is the full-dress debate on proposed new B.C. Municipal Act scheduled to come before the January sitting of the B.C. legislature this coming year.

B.C.'s organized communities, comprising 90 percent of population of this province, will be well represented at the sessions to hear government officials outline details of the new Act, and their effect upon the civic government.

TAX REBATE PLAN

Discussion of the government's new proposed tax-rebate plan is expected to be aired, together with the effect of this measure on civic coffers. The probability that the government may guarantee the bonds for city and district municipalities for self-liquidating projects, as was indicated in a front page story in The Herald Friday, may also be brought forward.

One of the most important of the 70-odd resolutions will concern flood-water damage, and the need for a central group to study the problem. This resolution was passed at the B.C. Municipal Engineers' convention here just over a week ago.

The convention will bring together 350 official delegates, 200 guest delegates, and 250 delegates wives. All sessions will be held in the Penticton Memorial Arena.

The general sessions are open to the public. The local committee, comprising members of the Penticton city (Continued on Page 5)

Delegates Name Interim Board

At special meeting of Interior Vegetable Marketing Board in Kelowna on Friday, September 28, interim board was elected to hold office until the annual meeting of delegates in mid-December.

Thomas Wilkinson of Benvoulin reviewed events during the early part of the year which had resulted in the resignation of the board, comprised of himself, R. Stockton of Kamloops, L. Hart of Osoyoos, and L. R. Stephens of Kelowna, on July 31, this year.

The new board elected by the delegates is comprised of T. Wilkinson, Benvoulin, chairman; J. H. Ritchie, Oliver; B. Pow, Vernon; and L. R. Stephens, Kelowna, shippers' representative.

A resolution was passed at the meeting of delegates directing the board to enforce all its regulations to the full.

Arrangements are underway to hold annual local meetings of growers in all districts early in November. At each of these meetings a delegate will be elected to attend the annual convention of delegates to be held in Kelowna on December 12 and 13.

IMPRESSIVE SOD-TURNING CEREMONY for new Health Centre took place Saturday afternoon at the Eckhardt avenue site. A small crowd of onlookers, closely concerned with the centre and its work, forgot the chilling wind and rain for a moment as Mayor Oscar Matson dug out a hefty spadeful of soil to mark the occasion. At left is Alderman Elsie MacCleave who acted as master of ceremonies. In the background looms the power shovel which started excavating on the project immediately following the sod-turning ceremony.

Sod-Turning Signals Start On Health Centre

Despite the onslaught of a sudden rain, the sod-turning ceremony for the Penticton Health Centre building lost none of its impressiveness Saturday afternoon, when civic officials signalled the start of work on the Eckhardt avenue structure. Actual excavation work for the $55,000 centre commenced immediately after the sod-turning.

Good Turnout Recorded For Jaycee Courses

Nineteen citizens turned out to register Friday, for the new Modern Business course, sponsored by city Jaycees, being offered at the Night School here in Penticton.

J. T. Young of South Okanagan Securities is giving the first six weeks course on investment. This course begins tonight and every Monday until the end of the twenty-four week, four-part course.

Turnout at the Effective Public Speaking class was not as high but encouraging. A registration of eight was recorded for the self-development course organized by Jaycee Jim Mertz. (Continued on Page Six)

Central figure for the occasion was Alderman Elsie MacCleave, who acted as master of ceremonies on behalf of the Penticton city council. Actual sod-turning was performed by Mayor C. Oscar Matson.

As he turned the first sod, Mayor Matson stated that the actual start of construction on the building culminated the efforts of two years of actual work and planning on the part of the city council and other groups. He acknowledged, particularly, the work of Dr. H. G. Garrioch, who initiated the health centre idea during his term on the city council.

Alderman Elsie MacCleave said, "On this barren, rocky piece of ground, we hope to build something of value to our community."

She also cited the many organizations participating in the financing of the building, including the two senior governments, the city of Penticton, (Continued on Page Five)

Civil Defence To Cope With 185,000 In Valley

How would Penticton and the other centres in the Okanagan Valley accommodate 185,000 evacuees streaming in as a result of a five megaton H-Bomb explosion in the Greater Vancouver area? How would Nelson and other West Kootenay centres handle 74,000 evacuees flowing into their region as a result of this explosion? How would Cranbrook and other East Kootenay communities take care of 67,000 evacuees from Vancouver?

This past week-end in the Penticton Canadian Legion Hall about 80 Civil Defence officials debated these questions. In the Legion Hall various delegates mounted maps as a plotting board of their operations.

Besides discussion of the problem of evacuating and tending for people, during an atomic hydrogen bomb attack, the delegates embarked on a convoy up to Summerland, where the local civil defence officials there had placed up a welfare centre in the West Summerland High School Auditorium.

COAST PROBLEMS
The opening hours of the Civil Defence forum here were devoted to presentation and discussion of Vancouver's problem should an attack occur.

Air Vice Marshall Heakes, C.D. coordinator for the greater Vancouver target area, with the assistance of Group Captain Alexander Lewis, operations officer in Vancouver City, traced out the situation on September 1 at midnight when a tentative plot was made on the assumption that a 5 megaton (equivalent to five million tons of TNT) H-Bomb had dropped.

Ground Zero for this mock H-Bomb was chosen as the corner of Georgia and Granville. From plotting the effects of such a bomb consistent with the wether conditions on September 1, it was found that the trend of radioactive fallout went in a south easterly direction.

Grp. Capt. Lewis showed on a map the all-familiar mushroom shape of a nuclear bomb, noting that radioactive particles would be most dense in the "stem" area of the mushroom — covering a radius of 10 miles — with less dense particles in the "cloud fall-out area."

As consistent with wind conditions on September 1, the operations officer, noted that the "cloud fallout" would drift as far as Hope and Osoyoos.

The danger zone lay somewhere between the stem and cloud areas, and Capt. Lewis felt that evacuees would have to be beyond Chilliwack to be comparatively safe from radioactivity.

The note of optimism in his description was his remark that (Continued on Page Six)

A DISCUSSION ON CIVIL DEFENCE problems proceeds between Maj. Gen. C. R. Stein, provincial C.D. co-ordinator, and Reeve F. E. Atkinson, while, foreground, Mrs. Gladys Laidlaw, and Miss Betty Ferrie of the first aid section await supposed casualties arriving at the Summerland reception centre on Saturday night.

A TEST EXERCISE FOR CIVIL DEFENCE is shown in operation as Paul Stohelin, Chief Welfare Officer for civil defence, Ottawa; Miss Dorothy Britton, welfare officer of Summerland; and (extreme right) Ivan Phillips, civil defence co-ordinator, West Summerland, make application to the inquiry officer of the Summerland unit, Mrs. W. R. Chalmers of West Summerland.

HOT COFFEE WAS SERVED members of the Civil Defence convoy immediately on their arrival at the Summerland reception centre Saturday night to indicate that refreshment would be an immediate need for those who had escaped disaster. Mrs. A. M. Temple, an active member of the Summerland civil defence group, is shown above, serving some of the arrivals.

Lila Ann McDonald Bride Of E. O. "Ted" Bowsfield In Pretty Autumn Ceremony

Softly glowing candlelight was reflected in deep red and white gladioli banking the altar in the Penticton United Church on Saturday evening to provide a beautiful setting for one of the prettiest ceremonies of the autumn season uniting in marriage Lila Ann McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDonald, and Edward Oliver Bowsfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Bowsfield. Rev. Ernest Rands officiated at the double ring rites.

The lovely young bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose an "Alfred Angelo" original model gown of hand-clipped rose point lace and illusion tulle over satin. The fitted basque bodice of lace had sleeves in lily point and portrait neckline, while a fully crinolined skirt of tulle with chapel train featured appliqued lace medallions. A fingertip veil was clasped by a pearl and rhinestone tiara. She wore as "Something-Old" her mother's beautiful heirloom gold cross studded with miniature pearls, and carried to complement her ensemble, a shower bouquet styled of trailing ivy, white orchids and valley lilies.

Maid of honor was her sister Miss Sherry McDonald and bridesmaids were Miss Claire O'Connell and her cousin Miss Heather Cudworth of Greenwood. They wore identical waltz length frocks of aqua brocaded taffeta fashioned in the princess mode. Maid of honor carried a shower bouquet of white carnations centred with a gardenia and wore matching blooms in her hair circlet, while the other attendants carried "Happiness Roses" in deep crimson and wore jewelled coronets.

Miss Jill McDonald, as her sister's junior attendant, was charming in a floor length frock styled of pink nylon net over taffeta and crinoline. She carried a miniature bouquet of crimson rosebuds and baby mums to match the flowers in her hair.

Douglas Moore was best man and ushers were Grant MacDonald, Bill Hanlon, George Drossos and Gordon May.

"I'll Walk Beside You" was sung by Mrs. Frank Christian during the signing of the register. Mrs. Monica-Craig Fisher was wedding organist.

The lovely deep red and white color theme employed in the church decorations arranged by Mrs. Frank Hopkins was again apparent in the decor at the reception held aboard the SS Sicomos. Crimson roses and white tapers in silver holders flanked a three tier wedding cake centring the beautifully appointed bride's table.

Those assisting in serving were the Misses Gail Gordon, Trudy Dafeo, Linn Hendry, Maureen Monaghan, Beverley Ward, Lois Campbell, Audrey Parmley and Liz Titchmarsh.

The toast to the bride was proposed by D. P. O'Connell and to the attendants by Douglas Moore. L. E. Edwards was master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Messages were received by the young couple from many centres in the States and Canada.

A most delightful and unique ceremony at the reception was the lighting of a "Remembrance Candle" by the wedding principals. The large taper, formed of three tiers, was beautifully ornamented in a floral design inset with silver leaf. The candle ceremony is symbolic of future happiness and is a popular modern custom.

The bride's mother was attractively attired in a mist blue afternoon gown of embossed taffeta with black velvet hat and matching blue and black accessories. Her corsage was styled of red rosebuds and a white gardenia. The groom's mother chose a smart dusty rose ensemble and orchid corsage for the wedding.

When the young couple left for a short motor trip honeymoon, the bride donned a chocolate brown worsted suit-dress fashioned in the new empire design. Her accessories were beige and brown and she wore the groom's gift, a diamond studded cross of gold. A pink orchid formed her corsage. Just as they were leaving she presented her wedding bouquet to her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. "Ted" Bowsfield will reside in Penticton until leaving for Florida when the groom, a well known young baseball star, will take up spring training with the San Francisco Seals.

Homer Sinks Sox' Hopes For Fast Series Wrap-Up

Hoopla Squads Get To Work On Tuesday

The Penticton Amateur Basketball Association announced today that practices for its teams this season will get underway Tuesday, October 2 in the main high school gym.

Practices will be Tuesdays and Fridays thereafter. On October 16, the men's senior B team will play an exhibition against the All-American Redheads, a touring team of girls' professional basketball players.

The Redheads play only men's teams under men's rules, and they win more than they lose.

But back to practices—midget teams will have the floor Tuesday from 6 p.m. to 7. This is the 12-14 age group.

Bantams—14 to 16—come on at 7 and go until 8. From 7:30 on they'll have to share the court with the senior B girls, who practice till 8:30. After that the men's senior B team takes over.

Midget practice will be under the direction of Stan Kelly with Charlie Preen and Mike Derry coaching. Manager of the bantams is Bill Hanelin, and Don Marshall and Charlie Richards act as coaches.

Incidentally, all games this year will be played with a large, 12-foot key painted on the floorboards. The king-size key was used by senior B teams last year and is compulsory under new rules.

Minor Hockey Registration Closes Oct. 6

About 105 Penticton boys have signed up for minor hockey this winter, secretary Art Fisher of the Penticton Minor Hockey association said today.

Registration for players opened five days ago. It closes October 6, so anyone interested in playing had better get down to Fisher's home at 466 Cariboo to get registered.

The deadline was announced, Fisher said, to speed up registration. Ice will be available in the arena October 10 and the association wants to get going as soon as possible.

By next week, Fisher hopes to have the bantam teams all formed and ready to play.

He'll assign the teams' practice time, usually on Saturdays, and let them work together for a few weeks before the season starts.

Kamloops Okonots tied up the Okanagan Mainline baseball league finals at one-game each yesterday when a three-run homer cut off Penticton Red Sox' fabulous 16-game winning streak.

Bill McDonald was the hero for Kamloops, bashing a long one over the left-field fence in the third inning to give the Okonots a 3-1 victory.

The third and final game of the best-of-three series will be played Sunday in Kamloops.

Yesterday, Penticton's only run came in the ninth inning when Kamloops' pitcher Len Gatin ruined his own shutout. He let George Drossos and Charlie Richards walk on base and allowed Richards to score on a wild pitch.

GATIN IN FORM

Gatin threw a near-perfect game otherwise, and got plenty of support from his fielders. He gave up only two hits, both singles by Sam Drossos and George Drossos.

He struck out nine men and walked three. His team-mates committed no errors at all, while the Sox hobbled four times.

Loser was Jack Durston, who gave up five hits over the rout, all of them singles except for McDonald's big one.

TWO MISSING

Durston fanned seven men and walked two.

What hurt the Sox most of all was the absence of heavy-hitters Bud Russell and Bill Raptis.

Raptis is on vacation and Russell has come down with pneumonia. Both may be missing for the last game of the season Sunday.

The Sox went into yesterday's game a little too sure of themselves. The last time they had lost was way back on June 27, when the cellar-dwelling Princeton Royals beat them.

TWO FOWLES

Both teams started off well enough, retiring each side three straight. Then Durston lost control in the third.

Gatin reached first on a single but was retired at second when Len Fowles made it to first on a fielder's choice. Jack Fowles whacked another single before McDonald stepped to the plate to poke the ball out of the park.

It was all the margin the Okonots needed as Gatin held the Sox down to one run.

Kamloops pulled off double-plays in the second and fourth innings while Penticton did the trick once, in the seventh.

HALFBACK DOUG WEEKS, one of the fastest men on the Penticton Marauders squad, grimaces in pain as he is lugged off the field by coach Merv Davis, right, and a team-mate, after twisting his ankle in the first quarter of the Penticton-Kamloops game. Loss of Weeks contributed to Penticton's 8-6 defeat.

Marauders Drop Kelowna Contest

KELOWNA—Penticton Marauders fumbled their way to an 8-6 loss to Kamloops Kougars yesterday in the middle game of a three-game football series.

October Deadline Set For Bowlers

SUMMERLAND — The executive of the Kingpin Five-Pin League Friday night decided that October 13 would be the deadline for the registration of teams.

A general meeting will be called on October 17, at which the rules and regulations will be announced.

Bowlers will have an opportunity to voice any complaints or suggest improvements before league play gets underway.

All interested bowlers are asked to attend and present their ideas, so the league will function harmoniously throughout the season.

The Kougars' victory evened the series both in total points and games. Penticton won the first game 14-12 in Kamloops. Marauders' record now stands at two wins to one loss.

At Kelowna yesterday, the Marauders' butter-fingered ball six-times—often in crucial spots—and never recovered once. One of their 80-yard marches downfield to scoring position ended with a fumble.

Kougars blocked a kick on the Marauders' 15-yard line in the first quarter to set up their touchdown. Quarterback Jeff Davis heaved a high pass to Cliff Chapman in the end zone to count the major, and the convert attempt went wide.

Shortly later, Kougars' rookie end Gordon Tansley caught Penticton kicker Bill Neaves in the Penticton end zone and pulled him down to score a safety touch—good for two points for Kamloops.

The Marauders' only touchdown came when Jerry Byers scooted around end for 10 yards in the second quarter. Bud Tidball's convert attempt missed.

Byers, the workhorse of the team, did most of the carrying for Marauders all day, especially after speedy halfback Doug Weeks was put out of action by an ankle injury in the second quarter.

Byers and Hank Raltt drove through for six to eight yards at a time, but nothing helped.

The Marauders tried a desperation play in the dying minutes of the game. Bill Neaves tried for a field goal that would have given Penticton three points and a 9-8 win, but the ball skidded under the crossbars by no more than three inches and the game ended.

One serious accident marred the game. Kamloops' rookie Andy "Smoke" Stoveman broke his leg below the knee in an attempt to tackle Byers in the fourth quarter.

Lack of a passing attack severely cramped the Marauders' style. Only two passes were completed—one to rookie end Bob Radley and one to Al Keefe.

The pass to Keefe was ruled complete only because of Kamloops' interference. Jack Angus intercepted one Kamloops pass for Penticton.

Next game for the Marauders is Saturday night against HMC.

Five-Pin Loop Opens Season Wednesday

The bowling season is in full swing. With two mixed-bowling leagues already in operation Tuesday and Thursday, the Commercial Five-pin bowling association gets underway this Wednesday to fill up the schedule.

The men will play at 7 p.m. Wednesday with the ladies taking the alleys at 9 p.m. Next week, the procedure will be reversed with the ladies bowling early and the men late.

Here's the schedule for opening night:

Men—alleys 1 and 2, Parker Motors and KP; alleys 2 and 3, Skaha Lake and D and N Body shop; alleys 5 and 6, L and L signs and Modern Radios; alleys 7 and 8, Penticton Redheads and Howard and White; alleys 9 and 10, Three Gables and CPR.

Ladies—alleys 1 and 2, Inkys and Pronto Pups; alleys 3 and 4, Headpins and Dragnets; alleys 5 and 6, Dollies and Woolworths; alleys 7 and 8, Lawn Bowlers and Garlisons; alleys 9 and 10, Hasbeens and Cranmas.

Billie Jamieson Gets Best Score

Billie Jamieson was the medalist in the silver division, for the qualifying round of the Malkin Cup, played last week at Penticton golf club.

She had a net 73. Mrs. E. Southworth shot a net 73 for tops in the Bronze division.

The draw for Button and Spoon competition this Tuesday is: F. Latimer, M. Arsene, B. Jamieson, A. Lawson, E. Johnston, E. Kernaghan, D. Hines, H. Thom, G. Farmlay, E. Southworth, L. Tyler, E. McCune, J. Marlow, G. Syer, E. Grove, M. Hyndman, M. Hill, P. McDonald, G. Dean, M. McArthur, N. Daines.

Naden.

It'll be the first of four home games for the Marauders, who will play a night game every Saturday in October.

WELCOME THE CONQUERING HERO! Bill McDonald earned all the jubilant backslapping he got from Okonot team-mates as he romped home on a circuit clout that spelled defeat for Penticton Red Sox in the finals of the OMBL Sunday. McDonald's big effort in the third uncorked the only scoring in the game until the dying moments of the ninth when Charlie Richards scored for Penticton on a wild pitch.

Feel That Icy Air, Bud? Hockey Season Approaches

For a while it looked like Penticton Vees would be the last team in the Okanagan Senior Hockey League to declare a coach. But that honor is going to Kamloops Elks, who haven't named one yet.

Kenny MacKenzie, Elks manager, went down to his old stamping grounds at New Westminster during the weekend to look for coaching and playing material. He is expected to announce a coach shortly.

In the meantime, the free-spending Scot isn't going to face the Okanagan Senior Hockey league season unprepared. In the course of his travels the past week, MacKenzie has picked up three players.

One is Jim McKenzie, formerly of the Winnipeg Maroons. Another is right-winger Peter Semko, a 21-year-old from Saskatoon Westleys via Lethbridge Native Sons.

From Saskatoon again, MacKenzie plucked 210-pound defenceman George Whyte, who also tolled for Moncton of the Atlantic senior hockey league.

Training camp for the Elks opens October 5 and MacKenzie expects to have the nucleus of his team on the ice by then. More will be picked up as the professional training camps close.

Up at Vernon, the Allan Cup winning Canadians are at work already. They opened practices last Tuesday after putting in the ice and repairing the arena all by themselves.

The hockey franchise is now owned co-operatively by the team members, an arrangement that isn't conducive to bringing in new members. Nevertheless, the Canadians have one.

He is Ted Leboldin, six-foot, 200-pound defenceman from Lethbridge. He played these last two seasons for Kimberley Dynamieters and was an All-Star defenceman in the Western International Hockey League last year.

Vernon is still waiting for the Canadian all-star team that will carry Canada's colors in the World hockey championships to show up for training in Vernon.

In Kelowna, the Packers are grimly preparing to ice the loop's best team this year. They've signed up defenceman Orval Lavell from Vernon to bolster a sagging blue-line.

Lavell, 29, also worked for the Sudbury Wolves for a few seasons. He started his pro career with the Los Angeles Monarchs of the old southern division of the Coast league.

Packers' defenceman Jack Kirk and Jim Hanson were both injured last season leaving the Kelowna team with only Alf Pyett and Bob Gilhooley as regular rearguards.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. — (UP)—Dick Iwini, coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, retired to-day because of ill health. He went to Chicago last year after 15 seasons at Montreal.

Marks Up Record For Trout On Fly

C. M. O'Brian, Q.C., of Vancouver, a recent visitor in Penticton, seemed to be carrying a bit more of the air of distinction that befits one of the senior counsel in the province.

It transpired that this was because of a triumph, not in the courts, but on the waters of Paul Lake, which he frequently enjoys.

There, a few days ago, he boated the largest trout every taken on a fly at that popular rendezvous of ardent fishermen.

Accompanied by his wife, no amateur angler herself, Mr. O'Brian brought his seven-pound rainbow down to Penticton to grace the freezer in the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. O'Brian.

Once more Penticton's Queen's Park Rangers were idle. Vernon was unable to field a team for a scheduled game here yesterday.

ROUNDING THIRD for Kamloops Okonots first run, Len Fowles looks over his shoulder to see Bill McDonald's three-run homer go over the left field fence in the top half of the third. Third sacker Eddie John, left, kicks the dirt as Kamloops' only big hit of the game crosses the barrier.

Tarala Arriving Here Next Monday; Vees' Training Camp Opens Oct. 10

Hal Tarala, Penticton Vees' new coach, will be in town next Monday, Vees' executives announced today.

Training camp for the Vees will open here about October 10, giving the team-members nine days to get in shape for the season.

For the first time in a long while, Vees' directors sounded optimistic in the talk about the team.

Season's tickets are selling well, the coach is lined up, and two pro teams have indicated they'll help the Vees with player material.

Team manager Don Emery, who signed up Tarala, said he has also made arrangements for four new juniors to report to the Vees.

Two are from Brandon Regals and two from New Westminster

FEW BOY SCOUT GUESTS OF CANADA at the 1955 Jamboree had a chance to see the great dams and smelters that make Canada a world supplier of aluminum.

But some did see a Canadian use of the light metal: outdoor cooking with aluminum foil. One Canadian troop showed how they used this handy material for doing potatoes, steaks and other foods over the campfire; how they kept food fresh in summer heat by protecting it with aluminum. If this missionary work carries the idea back to distant lands, Canada may have to turn out still more aluminum foil—even though last year her output, if laid in a 12-inch strip, would reach 382,000 miles.

Civil Defence In Valley

scientists believe that fallout will not occur until three hours after the H-Bomb has exploded.

MATTER OF EVACUATION

In connection with evacuation, he said that the Vancouver C.D. committee are currently preparing a pamphlet for every home "telling the people what to do, what to take and where to go, in the event of emergency."

He expressed hope that the federal and provincial authorities would plan to issue a standard pamphlet on the same lines to apply to the rest of Canada, with modifications for local conditions.

Assuming a strategic warning by the Distant Early Warning (DEW) Line, he noted that Vancouver has three drainage areas for evacuation: "green" to the north part of the Fraser River, "red" to the south via Pattullo Bridge and "black" to the sea.

In the green route which proceeds over Pitt River Bridge — a two lane highway — it has been computed that vehicles can flow at the rate of 10,000 people per hour (five persons to a car). On the red route over Pattullo Bridge which is a four lane highway it is figured that 20,000 people can cross per hour.

On this basis Capt. Lewis estimated that the city could be emptied in eight and a half hours.

To aid evacuation he noted that the black route — to the sea — would handle 100,000 people with the ships presently available.

As a way to check on the flow, the operations officer said that radio controlled taxi-cabs would be stationed at traffic control posts, with communications headquarters at Abbotsford.

The whole goal of the C.D. during this crucial period, he explained, is to convince people of the need to "press on" and thus get out of the dangerous fall-out area.

REFUELING DEPOTS

It was brought out during discussion on Capt. Lewis' paper that refueling depots are essential along the evacuation route.

A. V. M. Heakes also pointed out that without startegic warning ahead of time, not more than 50 percent of Vancouver's population would get out.

The next paper, which was delivered by Major William Beaton, coordinator for the greater Vancouver Mutual Aid Area, covered mainly the routes of evacuation from Surrey up to Hope.

Major Beaton estimated that 214,000 persons would cross over Pattullo Bridge and 144,000 persons over the Pitt River Bridge — providing strategic warning were given.

After crossing Pattullo, the cars would branch off into three routes, one via Blaine, Wash. Those cars crossing Pitt River would then divide into two routes.

In short, the evacuation from Vancouver would take place via five routes.

To avoid bottlenecks in traffic, holding centres have been planned in seven places: two at Chilliwack, one at Mission, one at Agassiz, one at Aldergrove, one at Haney, and one at Matsqui.

At these holding centres, the evacuees will get a chance to have minor injuries treated. They will have sanitation and food facilities.

Major Elmer "Lefty" White, C.D. Coordinator for the West Kootenays, challenged the justification of supplying food in the mutual aid area.

To him supply food was "making a mountain out of a molehill" as the "basic requirements for survival" is get the people out of the danger areas as fast as possible.

NORTH VANCOUVER

The evacuation of North Vancouver, as the C.D. coordinator for that area explained, would take place, via the PGE and up-land highways.

In North Vancouver the co-connection with food supplies, Brigaditor said that 44,500 persons would evacuate in five and one half hours. In addition, many persons in Vancouver proper would leave by rail transportation.

During the discussion on initial evacuation, much emphasis was placed on the responsibility of each individual to look after himself. Delegates hoped that the proposed pamphlet would warn citizens of the necessity, to take along sufficient food.

Saturday afternoon opinions expressed by the Okanagan Civil Defence Coordinator, Col. John Horne, drew much heated debate, particularly over the matter of mass feeding.

Col. Horne in his paper noted that 165,000 evacuees would be coming to the Okanagan via 33,000 cars over the Hope-Princeton highway and that a further 20,000 would arrive by rail.

As far as Pentiction is concerned, the city, he said, would be required to provide refreshments for 10,000 passengers moving via the Kettle Valley Railway to points East.

In addition, Pentiction would provide billets for 6,000 persons arriving via the Kettle Valley Railways, and 40,000 persons arriving via the Hope-Princeton Highway.

Other points in the Valley, such as, Salmon-Arm, Kelowna, Oliver, Osoyoos, Revelstoke and Princeton would be required to aid evacuees either by billeting or by providing refreshments as the case may be.

When evacuees arrive in Pentiction for billeting, Col. Horne explained, only minimum registration would take place to allow the newcomers time to recuperate.

Such registration would include names, family connection and ages, he suggested. More detailed registration would follow later.

This proved a controversial suggestion as many delegates felt there should be detailed registration as soon as arrival. However, the debate ended with all delegates favoring a national registration form.

Col. Horne said further that plans in the Okanagan are that feeding must be done on a mass feeding basis. Some delegates disagreed in that those billeted, particularly children, would be unable to travel too great a distance for a mass meal.

Food supplied for such meals, he said, would not fatten evacuees but would fill them. Present food supplies he felt, would last seven days for the tremendously boosted population in the Okanagan resulting.

Further, he said Okanagan plans are to have all doctors in a community organized into one clinic, to establish pit privies to eliminate sanitation problems, to hire full time auxiliary firemen.

He noted that probably the first wave of evacuees will be composed to a large extent of "dozens of skid-row", such as dope addicts, criminal elements.

Thus, "habeus corpus must be suspended until we know where we stand," said Col. Horne explaining the policing difficulties.

After seven days, then food would have to be obtained from sources of supply in Alberta, he added considering the long term aspect.

Delegates debated the food problem after Col. Horne's talk, and pointed out that possibly, the Okanagan was relying on a "vague" source of supply.

Group Capt. Lewis felt that such plans verged on the "danger of overorganization in C.D.", and suggested that the main question was to get the people out of target areas first.

When asked what the federal government was doing in connection with food supplies, Brigadier George Creffield, director of federal C.D. planning, said that the federal authorities are working on a K ration kit which will retail at approximately $3.

Chairman of the forum, Major C. R. Stein, who is general C.D. coordinator for the province, said that the game department would have to be consulted to organize shooting teams to alleviate food shortages.

The next paper was on the Trail-Tadnanac target zone evacuation and arrangements for short-term care of approximately 45,000 evacuees passing through the area by road and rail.

During the discussion that followed Capt. Lewis said that the aim of enemy bombers would not be to ruin the economy of the nation and bomb out evacuation routes.

"You must remember," he said, "that people make excellent slave labor once the victors have captured the nation."

Ald. Elsie MacCleave of Pentiction asked whether plans had been made to provide stocks of blankets and warm clothing.

To this query one delegate said "In survival planning we must impress on the individual his responsibility to look after himself and take sufficient clothing."

It was also pointed out that mass feeding is becoming a standardized method in the case of a recent Jehovah-Witness Rally in Vancouver and the Canadian National Exhibition.

Col. Horne noted that canneries and food processing plants in the Okanagan would aid in a mass feeding scheme.

In the evening delegates went up to West Summerland to witness a welfare station in operation. The group travelled in a convoy at a speed of 40 mph and were escorted by the RCMP.

Sunday morning the first paper dealt with long term care of evacuees and the community dealt with was Nelson.

A highlight of this paper was the expressed need to prevent evacuees from getting bored. After two or three days, it was estimated, the process of boredom would set in and something would be needed to keep the evacuees busy.

Under such a long term plan Nelson would use an old folks' home for maternity cases. It was also planned to use library shelves and quarters for a clothing centre.

During discussion A. V. M. Heakes noted that the federal government has given Vancouver 1 1/2 hours to get out priority cases and have them united with their families.

For instance, school children, "Although extremely valuable time is used," he said, "it is best spent in re-uniting children with parents before evacuation."

The next paper was given by W. K. McRae, coordinator for the East Kootenay reception area, TREMENDOUS INFLUX.

In his talk Mr. McRae noted that the East Kootenays would have to accommodate 67,000 people evacuated from the Vancouver and Trail target areas.

To handle this tremendous influx, the evacuees would be allotted to six zones in the East Kootenays.

Headquarters for the various zones are at Fernie, Cranbrook, Creston, Kimberley, Invermere, and Golden.

He cited as his "biggest problem" in the role of coordinator was "how to bring C.D. to every citizen so that they know their own responsibility."

Further on the matter of pri-

Funerals are the chief social and artistic outlet for Tiwi tribesmen on Melville Island. To put the deceased's evil spirit properly to rest, the death ceremonies are carried on for months, culminating in a final ritual called pukamani.

Institutions on the coast like the Woodlands School and Crease Clinic would pose a problem.

One speaker suggested that this problem tied in with the "dispersal of industry" theory propounded by Dr. Gordon Schrum at the University of B.C.

This speaker put forth the suggestion that possibly Pentiction could be used as a permanent site for provincial welfare institution.

ed, Rotary International has spent more than $2,000,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as Rotary ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established, 834 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students in 61 countries for study in 40 countries.

In District No. 153, in year 1950-51, Harold P. Capozzi, sponsored by the Kelowna Club, studied at the Italian University for Foreigners, Perugia, Italy, and he is now Program Director of Television CBMT in Montreal. In 1952-53 Daniel E. Peterson was sponsored by the Coulee Dam, Washington, Club to study at the University of London, London, England. Mr. Peterson is now a High School teacher in Cheney, Washington. For the year 1956-57 Miss Elizabeth Ann Winegar of Moscow, Idaho, was awarded the Fellowship from old District 153, which is now Districts 156 and 153.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for 431,000 business and professional executives throughout the free world, regardless of differing nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary District Governor emphasized at today's luncheon.

"In addition to the promotion of international understanding," Mr. Coe continued, "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary Clubs in this District which includes 26 Rotary Clubs in Washington and B.C. on scholarships and bursaries; parks, playgrounds, swimming and safety instruction and camps."

Mr. Coe urged the local Rotary Club to be well represented at the Rotary District Conference to be held in Pentiction in April, 1957, and to make plans for the Club to be represented at the 48th Annual Convention of Rotary International, which will be held in Lucerne, Switzerland, next May.

Increased Services Keynote ILMA Growth

With the headquarters of the Interior Lumber Manufacturers Association located at 639 Main Street in Penticton and closer to all member mills, the services carried out by the ILMA are being handled quickly and more efficiently.

So said L. J. A. Rees, secretary manager, this week in outlining the history of the ILMA and the many services provided by the association's staff.

The association's offices were formerly located in Vancouver.

The association is an organization of lumber manufacturers and wholesalers located mainly in the Kamloops and Nelson forest districts of British Columbia.

FORMED IN 1941

The association was formed in 1941 by Harry Turner of Inland Building Supplies Limited, Kamloops, and Wilfred Hanbury of Ponderosa Pine Lumber Company, Monte Lake, in an attempt to bring the Southern Interior lumber industry together for the purpose of liaison with timber control and the Dominion Government during World War II.

Since its inception the association has grown steadily from the original eight member firms to its present size of 70 members. Along with the growth in members, the services of the association have increased proportionally. Benefits available to members are many and varied.

Labor negotiations; Competent personnel of the association who are experienced in labor relations conduct labor negotiations and look after day to day labor relations and personnel problems as they arise.

Safety: The association employs a safety director, whose duty it is to assist members in setting up and operating safety programs in their operations. He also takes care of any problems that arise with regard to the Workmen's Compensation Board legislation.

Grading: The association maintains and operates a grading program for its members. This includes grading supervision, educational classes, grade surveys and a proposed grade marking and inspection program. The association employs a grading inspector and an assistant grading inspector, whose full time is taken up on grading matters.

Forestry: The association's forestry committee meets with the B.C. Forest Service at regular intervals to discuss forest policy and problems that members are having. The membership was also assisted in presented cases before the Royal Commission on forestry.

Freight rates and marketing: The association is continually endeavoring to establish better freight rates and makes representation on behalf of the members on any increases. The association will be looking after the interests of members when equalization of commodity rates is investigated.

Taxation: The association maintains a constant watch over new tax legislation and other forms of legislation, both provincial and federal, and if it is detrimental to the membership, makes strong protests.

The present staff of the ILMA consists of L. J. A. Rees, secretary manager; A. D. Macdonald, assistant to the secretary manager; F. W. Folkard, chief grading inspector; W. Huggins, assistant grading inspector; J. E. Cowan, safety director; and Mrs. B. MacKillop, secretary.

Jim Rees has been with the ILMA for the past five years and has been associated with the lumber and pulp and paper industry for the past 20 years. This experience is of great value in handling the wide variety of problems handled in the association offices.

Al Macdonald joined the ILMA in July after 2½ years with B.C. Forest Products, Vancouver, and four years with Pacific Mills Lim-

B.C. Centennial Poster Contest To End Oct. 15

Entries in the $1,100 poster competition to publicize the British Columbia Centennial, are rolling in to the centennial headquarters in Victoria.

"We haven't looked any of the entries as yet, but we are looking forward to some very exciting ones," said Fred Ames, chairman of the committee of judges. "The deadline for the first stage of the competition is October 15 and all entries must be in before that date."

The $1,000 competition for the poster design suitable for world-wide distribution to publicize the British Columbia Centennial Celebrations in 1958, is open to all professional and amateur artists resident in B.C.

The designer of the prize-winning poster will receive the grand prize of $500. There will be two further prizes of $200 each, and two additional prizes of $100 each.

The competition judges are Fred Ames, principal of the Vancouver School of Art, Peter M. Downes, member of the Vancouver Art Gallery and vice-president of a leading Canadian Advertising Agency, and John Korner, president of the British Columbia Society of Artists.

Entry forms for the contest are still available from the British Columbia Centennial Committee, Parliament Buildings, Victoria.

NEW HANDBAGS

New handbags are as slim as a woman after a long-term diet, which is going to make it difficult for the gal who uses her purse as a closet away from home. Elongated squares, rectangles and pouches are the favorite shape, all of them wafer thin. But the severity of design usually is softened with tucks, drapes, long flaps, or shaped handles. Contrasting textures also add softness. Colors include such off-beat shades as curry, saffron, mustard and ochre.

ated at Ocean Falls.

Fred Folkard joined the association approximately three years ago after many years of grading and lumbering experience.

Bill Huggins started last December after ten or more years in grading and lumbering at the coast and in the interior.

Ernie Cowan who started with the ILMA in August, 1956, had previously worked for eight to nine years in personnel and safety work with MacMillan, Bloedel at Alberni.

Mrs. McKillop, the most recent arrival, started in September after moving to Penticton with her husband from Vancouver.

Mr. Rees, Macdonald, Cowan and Mrs. McKillop have moved to Penticton and established their families here. Mr. Folkard lives in Canoe and Mrs. Huggins has recently moved to Creston which will be the centre of his field of activity.

Bishop Demel Speaks In Kelowna Tuesday

Rt. Rev. Hyianirundu Lakdasa Jacob DeMel, of the Church of India, Pakistan, Burma and Ceylon, will address a mass meeting of Anglican Church adherents of the Okanagan Valley in St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Kelowna, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Bishop of Kurunagala, Ceylon, since 1950, he is currently making a tour of Western Canada. A luncheon will be tendered in his honor at All Saints' parish hall in Vernon Tuesday noon.

A Sinhalese native of Ceylon, whose family has been Christian for four hundred years, Bishop DeMel was born in 1902. He was educated at the Royal College in Colombo, Ceylon, and at Keble College, Oxford, England. From the latter institution he holds both B.A. and M.A. degrees.

RETURNED TO CEYLON

Following his entry into the ministry, Bishop DeMel started work in the Diocese of South-west, England. After a year there, he went back to Ceylon to be assistant curate of St. Paul's Church in Kandy. Between 1929-1940, he was priest-in-charge of the Baddegama Mission, which served villages in which three different languages are spoken: Sinhalese, Tamil and English.

During World War II, Bishop DeMel became Vicar of St. Paul's Church, Kandy, and part of the time was officiating chaplain to the armed forces. Consecrated assistant bishop of Colombo in 1945, he became in 1950 the first Bishop of Kurunagala, newly-created diocese in the heart of Ceylon. He took with him 20 priests, for the evangelization of Ceylon's most thinly Christian region.

Of a population of seven and one-half million people, Ceylon has about 50,000 who are Anglicans. The Church of India, Pakistan, Burma, and Ceylon, is one of the churches of the Anglican communion stemming from the Church of England, and whose Canadian member is the Anglican Church of Canada.

DEPEND ON CHURCH

In spite of the minority of Christians in Ceylon and on the mainland of Asia, modern education on that continent has been largely the gift of the church. Most church work takes place in villages in which 85 per cent of the population lives.

In an address, delivered at the Anglican Congress held in 1954 in Minneapolis, Minn., Bishop DeMel expressed these hopes for the work of the church in his area:

"The accent (on church work) must not be on efficiency but holiness. Holiness is the unanswerable argument to the people

U.S. Is Canada's Top Trade Partner

The United States, as usual, was Canada's leading trade partner in the first half of 1956; she continued to buy over 60 per cent of our exports and supply 75 per cent of our imports. The value of exports to the United States increased at the same rate as did total exports and set a new first-half-year record.

The value of total exports to all countries, up to the end of June, was 12 per cent higher than figures for the corresponding period last year and sets a new record of 9 per cent above the previous one of 1952.

Largest boost took place in petroleum exports which almost quadrupled in value, but forest products still remained the largest major group, accounting for almost one-half of total exports to the U.S. Although sales of planks, boards and shingles fell off moderately in the first half of 1956, these were more than made up for by advances in newsprint, wood pulp, plywood and veneers.

Very sharp gains in copper exports, substantially higher shipments of iron ore, and marked advances in sales of ferro-alloys, scrap iron and steel, and machinery to the U.S. market are reported. The article notes that agricultural products registered the second best percentage gain of all export commodity groups with large increases in barley and wheat.

Imports from the U.S. were also up this year by about 30 per cent in the first six months, a new import record. Primary and semi-finished steel products, machinery and plant equipment paced Canada's imports from the U.S.

Genuine sealskin is so supple that an entire pelt can pass through a napkin ring. Six to ten skins go into the average fur coat, which costs from $1,500 to $2,500.

Shutters Add New Charm To House

Whether planning a new home or doing over the outside of your present one, shutters afford an interesting feature and add an air of charm.

Shutters may be for decoration only or may be hinged to open and close easily.

The simplest way to make shutters is to saw them from a sheet of half inch fir plywood. Thanks to waterproof glue construction fir plywood will stand up to the severest weathering.

Ideas for attractive window shutters may be clipped from magazines. Using a scaled grid, an outline of the shutter pattern can be drawn right on the plywood and cut out with a coping saw. Thin slats may be added to create many varied patterns, appropriate for a home in the city, country or at the sea-shore.

Apple Knocker' Gives Apple Industry Boost

Word of a minor boost for the apple industry from a now and different slant comes from New York's restaurant of celebrities, the famous Twenty One Club at 21 West 52nd Street.

The boost is in the form of a new summer drink called an "apple knocker" which is reported becoming increasingly popular with the Twenty One clientele.

The formula combines chilled apple juice with chilled vodka in proportions to suit the taste. Add cracked ice, shake well, pour into a chilled glass -- and away you go.

Another specialty of the house is lending similar aid to the tomato producers. This is the rather gruesomely named "Bloody Mary" derived from mixing chilled tomato juice with vodka.

TV Antenna Nearing Completion; Big Eye To Glow Here On Nov. 15

If you feel like mountain-climbing, you can watch the world series on television.
If not, you'll just have to wait until Nov. 15 to see the big eye glow. On that date, television sets in dealers' windows here will come to life.

As soon as possible after that, television signals will be piped into private homes.

South Okanagan Television Distributors, Ltd., the local company formed two years ago to bring in TV, reports that its community antenna up behind the West Bench is rapidly nearing completion.

ANTENNA READY SHORTLY
Within a week or so the antenna will be ready to pick channels 2 and 4, Spokane, Wash., out of the air. But it'll be more than a month before the trunk-line cable is laid from the mountain to Penticton.

The cable will bring signals to the company's central distributing point at Main and Eckhardt. From there radius lines will fan out to bring television into homes, much like electricity and telephone services are wired in.

Frank Wittner, public relations officer for the distribution company, said not enough data was in yet for the company to set a price for television service.

However, he said, estimates indicate the cost of hooking onto the service would be about $125 and monthly maintenance charge would be about $4.

"WIRED" TELEVISION

One will be able to pick up television signals unless tapped into the wire. Department of Transport regulations make the company responsible for seeing that there's no radiation from the cables, Wittner said.

Because the company is only authorized to distribute service, not broadcast, there will be no local commercials. Programs will instead carry the same sponsors here as in Spokane.

Corals, like sea anemones, are animals—a fact that was unknown until the 18th century, says the National Geographic Society. Colonies of the soft polyps build reefs and islands with their stony skeletons.

Anchorage has a population of 28,500—almost three times more than any other Alaskan city.

CAWSTON NOTES

Mrs. Clarence Walker and family will be leaving shortly to join Mr. Walker at Winfield, where he is now employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Crow and daughters were attending the Armstrong exhibition last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Worsfold have received word that Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Worsfold have arrived in San Jose, Costa Rica. They flew from Vancouver and travelled via Mexico City. They are connected to the Latin American mission as radio-missionaries.

They have also received word of the arrival of their first grandchild born September 10 at Weyburn, Sask. To their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Worsfold. The baby will be called Karen Marie.

The two younger children of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. MacKenzie were baptized in the Cawston United Church on Sunday afternoon. John Peter Watts and Jean Alexis were the names bestowed on the small participants.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Patterson, Vancouver, were godparents for John Peter Watts, but as they were not able to attend, Mrs. J. Patterson, Sr., was their proxy. A gift of a Bible from his godparents was received by John Peter, while his grandmothers, Mrs. Watts, gave him a silver christening mug which had belonged to his uncle Terence Watts, killed in action in Sicily.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilf Owen, Penticton, stood for Jean Alexis and gave her a gift of a brush and comb.

Rev. Mr. Schuetze officiated at the rites and Mrs. T. A. Lusted played the organ. Mrs. Dan Spancers had tastefully decorated the church. After the ceremony, tea was served to a number of guests at Mr. and Mrs. K. G. MacKenzie's home.

PEACHLAND NEWS

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferddie Brent this weekend are Miss Barnwell, Captain and Mrs. Frank Ross of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Lawley of Oliver were recent visitors of Mrs. Lawley's sister, Mrs. W. D. Miller.

The first meeting for the fall and winter season of St. Margaret's W.A. will be held on Friday, October 5 at the home of Mrs. Fred Topham, Jr.

Miss Pamela Jackson, who has been spending a holiday at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Ivor Jackson, Trepanier, has left by car for Victoria via the Fraser Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Long, Greata Ranch and their elder son, John, motored to Sorrento for the weekend.

Mrs. George Topham returned this week from Grimsby, Ont., where she spent the summer months, working for the Allied Fruit Shippers.

At the regular meeting of the Municipal Council held last Thursday evening, it was reported that the black topping program for 1956 has been completed. Princeton avenue has been paved for a distance of about two miles; a good start made on Somerset avenue and the Totem Inn parking lot and Second street paved. Some property entrances and tapering off of approaches at paved portions are now under way.

Councillors Jackson and Lloyd-Jones were appointed to represent Peachland at the convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities to be held in Penticton on Oct. 3, 4 and 5.

The Corporation of Peachland is presenting a resolution protesting a clause in the B.C. Power Commission pump contract, which states that in time of low voltage due to any cause whatsoever, the Power Commission may order pumps disconnected. As a result, the Power Commission is able to balance their load by cutting off services rather than by supplying more power. Under present contract, it is virtually impossible to protest against low voltage because the Commission has reserved the right to cut off power entirely, under such conditions.

According to the census taken recently the official population of the village is 680. In 1951, it was 614.

Mrs. Eric Turner has been engaged to assist the municipal clerk, replacing Mrs. F. E. Wright who has held the position so faithfully for several years past. Mrs. Turner commences her duties on Oct. 1.

Labor Dispute May Halt Installation Of Coast Pipeline

VANCOUVER — (BUP) — Installation of Vancouver's natural gas pipe system may be halted this week by a jurisdictional dispute between city plumbers' and electrical workers' unions.

The members of plumbers' local 170 have warned they will walk off their jobs October 5 unless city gas-workers, members of local 213 of the electrical workers' union, refrain from installing branch lines.

Jess R. St. Ello, the agent for local 170, claims that members of local 213 are violating an American Federation of Labor ruling of long standing, which stipulates that only plumbers may install gas lines.

A band of deserts, nowhere less than 1,000 miles wide, extends across Africa south of the narrow coastal strip along the Mediterranean, say the National Geographic Society.

Three Phases Required In Building TV Hookup

Last Thursday night the South Okanagan TV Distributors had a live TV set gleaming off programs from Channel 4, KXLY, Spokane.

This first set in Pentiction will be used to monitor reception on the 16 40-foot high antennas presently being erected by the company.

Construction of Pentiction's TV hook-up is in three phases. The first phase involves erecting eight 40-foot antennas for station KXLY and eight 40-foot antennas for station KREM, channel 2, Spokane.

The antennas of steel and aluminum construction are located on the West Bench.

Last night the antennas for receiving station KXLY were completed.

BLOCK HOUSE

Phase two is the building of a block house which will regulate reception from the antennas and direct the TV waves to the various users of TV. This block house is presently under construction.

Phase three is the erecting of poles to carry the coaxial cable down from the West Bench into the city.

The right-of-way for these poles is now being cleared, and poles are ready for delivery.

After these three phases have been dealt with, the company will distribute cables through the city via telephone poles. Some time ago the company was granted permission by the Okanagan Telephone Company to use these poles.

In addition, the company obtained permission in August from the Department of Transport to operate such a scheme and was granted a license.

South Okanagan TV Distributors have set November 15 as their "target date" when the TV hook-up will be operating in stores on Main street.

Valley's Ogopogo To Invade Toronto "The Good" In Nov.

Ogopogo, the Okanagan Lake's famous monster, will make his first official appearance in Eastern Canada during the Grey Cup festival in Toronto, November 24. A replica of Ogo will be around 200 feet long.

According to plans being made a special B.C. committee, laughter will be theme of the British Columbia "invasion" gimmicks by the dozen will put across the idea that B.C. is the "Texas of Canada" — the biggest, bestest and mostest province.

Committee chairman, Ald. Frank Baker, of Vancouver, said, "Toronto made a lot of fun of itself last year in Vancouver. We'll show eastern Canada we can laugh at ourselves with the best."

The committee approved these ideas:

A 40-piece B.C. Lions band in the Toronto parade.

Miss B.C. Lions in the Miss Grey Cup contest.

Seven-unit replica of B.C.'s own railway, the PGE, with each coach bearing huge cartoons drawn by Sun cartoonist Len Norris.

Other fun-making ideas are also planned.

The committee's enthusiasm was checked only by expenses. It decided to work out details of plans, find the cost total and then raise the money. But some expense-saving suggestions were adopted.

There's an easy way and a messy way of painting a chair. You've probably been caught by the messy way — painting the outside of the legs and rungs first, then having to reach through to paint the inside parts. The easy way is this: Turn the chair upside down on a table and paint underneath parts first. Put it back on its feet, then finish the legs. Next do the back. Then you leave the top of the seat until the last, you can steady the chair while dabbing paint into difficult corners.

ALFRED EDWIN EAST

Well Known Keremeos Citizen Alfred East Succumbs In Victoria

KEREMEOS — Alfred Edwin East, for many years a resident of Keremeos, died suddenly in the Victoria Jubilee Hospital on September 27 at the age of 88.

Born near London, England, in 1868, Mr. East and his family came to Canada in 1892, residing first in Manitoba.

Later he moved to California, then to Mexico, and next to Bel-fast. Mr. East returned to Canada in 1905.

Upon the death of his first wife in 1917 he moved to Keremeos where he purchased an orchard on the upper bench.

COMMUNITY WORKER

An active community worker, Mr. East, while in Keremeos, had been president of the Keremeos-Cawston Board of Trade and president of the Associated Boards of Trade in the southern interior when both these organizations were campaigning for the completion of the Hope Princeton highway.

For many years he served as peoples' warden in St. John's Anglican Church at Keremeos and was chairman of the church building committee.

Keenly interested in politics, Mr. East was president of the Keremeos-Cawston Conservative Association.

While on the island he followed with great interest the growth of Keremeos and kept himself informed on the conditions of orchardists.

Surviving are his wife, Blanche in Victoria, one son Jack of Keremeos, four daughters, Mrs. J. C. Clarke of Keremeos, Mrs. N. M. Carter of Ottawa, Mrs. C. E. Brett of Penticton, Mrs. John Matte of Victoria, thirteen grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.
